These are senior roles for people who have produced spectacular results, are experts in their field and passionate about their work. Azam Marketing is an award-winning agency renowned for being among the very best at what we do, and we do not recruit merely 'average' or 'good' people.

Candidates must have a minimum 18 months full-time (at least 30 hours a week) or three years part-time (at least 15 hours a week) experience in the specific discipline they are applying for the position in. We are not seeking candidates with less experience than this.

If a candidate is multi-skilled or interested in different aspects of online marketing/design, it may be possible to combine roles to suit the applicant's passions.

Salaries vary depending on a variety of factors including experience, results produced, clients won, presence in the industry, contacts in the industry, degree of ambition, and number of hours candidate will work.

Social Media Marketing Manager

Azam Marketing is expanding operations and looking for a Social Media guru to assist in using all the clever social media tools out there to take our business and those of our clients to the next level. You will be required to implement and execute a social strategy.

The role will be for between 15 and 25 hours a week, with the opportunity to do more hours should you wish and have proven skillsets in other fields we specialise in as an agency.

Invaluable, free training by industry-leading experts with a value of more than £5,000.00 will be provided on the sophisticated social media tools and strategies we employ.

You will be working freelance initially but potential for full time and potential small equity package in time.

This is a permanent role, not suitable for those only seeking a short-term job.

May work from home anywhere or from our office in central London.

The hours are flexible within reason, so you have control over your schedules and can fit in the work around other commitments.

Unique opportunity for right person!

- Duties and Responsibilities -

Manage Azam Marketing's social media profiles and increase revenues from them.

We are looking for a through-and-through social specialist - an individual with unstoppable drive to deliver the best work in the social space and a desire to push boundaries and stay ahead of the curve in Social Media. You will immerse yourself in the social world every day, and also have the expertise to translate your knowledge into action.

To be successful in this role, you need to thrive in a fast-paced environment, whilst working effectively and collaboratively with others. You will have a genuine passion for all aspects of social media, and you'll be curious and excited by developments within the digital and social landscape.

An understanding of digital technologies, trends, policies and social media best practice is key.

You will be a self-starter, prepared to use your own initiative in leading and managing projects to effectively deliver.

- Skills / Qualifications / Experience Required -

Must have expertise in using social media in a business capacity and have proven to drive meaningful engagement.

- How to Apply -

Please email jobs [at] azam.net with your CV and a covering letter detailing the results you have attained from your social media marketing endeavours. Screenshots and/or web links to what you have achieved are important.

Business Development Manager

Azam Marketing is an award-winning marketing and design agency founded in 1997 that specialises in affiliate, email and search marketing, as well as web design and development.

Due to on-going expansion we now have an exciting full-time or maximum part-time opening for a Business Development Sales Manager to recruit clients for all our divisions.

You will have creative new business skills and a professional approach. You will be responsible for developing high value opportunities. This will involve identifying, developing and securing potential business for our entire range of marketing and programming services. You will deal with large and medium size businesses, advertising and affiliate networks, and other agencies.

You will have a proven record of closing business and the ability to liaise and influence at every level. You will be immaculate in presentation, have first class communication skills and the business acumen to deliver Azam Marketing's innovative propositions to a growing audience.

You will be confident and hungry, ready to pick up the phone, raring to go out to meet prospective clients, and start selling.

Responsibilities

The key requirements of the role will be winning, retaining and growing business via an array of means including, but not limited to:

- generating outbound sales pipeline
- handling and closing inbound sales queries
- identifying business growth opportunities

- tenaciously reaching out to and bringing on board advertisers and clients
- fulfilling all aspects of successful sales cycles (RFPs, quotations, proposals, presentations, closing, reporting)

Requirements

The ideal candidate will be degree or similar level educated and possess a minimum of 2-3 years full-time relevant sales experience. This could be at a digital marketing agency, affiliate network or company, advertising network, search engine or agency, web design company, or Email Service Provider.

The ideal person must:

- have expertise in selling services in at least one of the following disciplines: affiliate marketing, email marketing, search marketing, display advertising, graphic design, website development
- be based in London or the South-East of England
- be able to work using his or her own initiative
- be well-organised and punctual
- pay attention to detail
- possess excellent written, verbal and presentation skills
- be seeking a long term position

Opportunities

Azam Marketing is a highly flexible modern employer and provides staff with maximum freedom: you pick the location you work from and the times you work. You will be free to do the work from the comfort of your own home or office, or from an office in Central London.

You will be able to work the hours that suit your lifestyle: nobody will tell you what hours you must work or will control your life in our agency.

We are renowned for investing considerable resource into staff development and training to make our team members even better than they are and the best in the industry.

Be free of the daily commute and corporate 9-5 grind. Our team is friendly and everybody enjoys their jobs!

The base salary will depend on the amount of relevant experience and expertise, and the number of industry contacts. You will enjoy lucrative uncapped bonuses, perks, and company shares for exceptional standard of work and client wins.

Applications

Please send the following to hr [at] azam.net :

- your CV
- a case study of a deal you personally closed to bring on board a client in digital marketing, programming or design (1- 3 pages of A4)
- your username on any digital marketing, programming, business forums and/or social networking sites.

- your salary expectation

Applications without the required information will not be considered.

Azam Marketing is a SME headquartered in central London. The award-winning digital marketing and design agency was founded in 1997 and specialises in affiliate, email and search marketing, as well as web design and development.

We are seeking a candidate for a full-time Senior Manager/Chief Operating Officer/Vice-President type role in the company. The position would involve working alongside the existing CEO to manage the company and be responsible for thrusting the business forward in the fast-changing world of digital marketing and design.

This is a new role in the company and the specific remit would be defined based on the strengths and passions of the chosen candidate, but tasks may include administrative duties, staff recruitment and management, designing and executing strategies to retain existing clients and win new business, marketing the agency, and setting-up and managing efficient working practices. You will have Profit and Loss responsibility.

The candidate must have at least three years each of professional experience with demonstrable success in at least three of the following disciplines/skillsets: Affiliate Management, Copywriting, SEO, PPC, Email Marketing, Lead Generation, Public Relations, Display Advertising, Web Design, Programming, Book-Keeping/Accounts, Business Management.

The candidate should ideally have had experience in running a profitable business and/or senior management experience.

The candidate must be confident, highly ambitious and hard-working. The candidate will be constantly looking for new opportunities, have a proven record of closing business, and the ability to liaise and influence at every level. He/she will be immaculate in presentation, have first class communication skills and the business acumen to deliver Azam Marketing's innovative propositions to a growing audience.

Location: must be based in London or south-east of England as many of our clients are based in London.

Candidate Requirements

The ideal person must:

- have more than three years full-time or five years part-time experience in the online marketing industry in the UK
- will have a successful track record in managing a division or entire business

- have a rolodex of contacts with senior figures in the UK digital marketing and/or design industry
- possess excellent project management, logistical co-ordination and customer service skills
- have an expert understanding of the underlying metrics of performance marketing
- have the ability to obtain excellent results through effective leadership and motivation to achieve a common goal
- be enthusiastic and possess a can-do attitude
- be able to work using his or her own initiative
- be eager to manage the business long-term

Opportunities

Azam Marketing is a highly flexible modern employer and provides staff with maximum freedom: you pick the location you work from and the times you work. While you will need to visit the office in central London on a regular basis and meet clients/business partners, you will also be free to frequently work from the comfort of your own home or office should you choose.

While availability during UK office hours is required, you will be able to work the hours that suit your lifestyle: nobody will tell you the specific hours you must work or will control your life in our agency.

We are renowned for investing considerable resource into staff development and training to make our team members even better than they are and the best in the industry.

Be free of the daily commute and corporate 9-5 grind. Our team is friendly and everybody enjoys their jobs!

The base salary will depend on the candidate's amount of relevant experience and expertise, his/her presence in the industry, the number of contacts in the industry, and the amount of net profit generated at previous companies. You will enjoy lucrative uncapped bonuses, perks and company shares for exceptional results.

Applications
